BEHIND the SCENES
“Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world: indeed it’s the only thing that ever has.”- Margret Mead

Another eventful year we can all be proud of! Reflecting on this past year, I believe our greatest strength lies in the work we continue to do to ensure our curriculum and activities focus on educating mind and equipping them with values of tolerance and understanding. Acceptance, compassion and the knowledge will take them a long way. And these coupled with ambition and team spirit will lead to sure success. We are becoming a true community of learners through collaborative learning.

We continue to build a common language around behaviour and learning. I am happy that there has been a lot of work going on behind the scenes to ensure students here at our campus understand the delicate balance between – feeling, thinking and doing – and live up to the reputation of expressing their opinion and taking on challenges. This also resonates through our yearbook theme ‘Behind the Scenes’.

I look forward to yet another exciting and challenging school year space. I would like to thank you all again for your contribution this year in making Froebel’s a school we can all take pride in!

Early Years
Every student who loves sports always looks forward to the Annual Sports Day, especially Early Years! To them, the Sports Day is synonymous with aerobic displays and having their friends by their side as they participate in different races. This year’s Sports Day included a variety of races to ensure every child is able to excel in the category they are good at. From the spoon race to the hurdle race and even the flat races kept all spectators on the edge of their seats. The day ended with the students walking out of the school with their trophies, goody bags and big smiles on their faces!
The students of Early Years surprised the audience with their high-spirited performances on their Dramatic Arts Day. The Playgroup pupils performed different rhymes and songs as these hugely impact the development of the children's language and communication skills. The Kindergarteners performed stories inspired by the wonderfully funny and award-winning author 'Sue Hendra'. The stories were Supertato, Keith the Cat with the Magic Hat, Norman the Slug and Barry the Fish with Fingers. Our Preparatory pupils performed stories inspired by Roald Dahl. The children gave jaw dropping performances on challenging stories such as Matilda, The Enormous Crocodile, The Magic Finger as well as James and the Giant Peach. Beautiful costumes and props added to the beauty of the event. On behalf of the Early Years team we would like to thank all the parents for their contribution to this special event!
In honour of the special time children have spent in early years, the Preparatory graduation was celebrated in a very momentous way. It was an emotional event for parents and teachers alike. Children's choir made the event exceptional. The young graduates proudly received their Early Years diplomas. We would like to thank all the parents for their continuous support and for trusting us with their children. It is never easy to say goodbye, we wish them all the success for Primary Years!

DRAMATIC ARTS

Primary Years held its Dramatic Arts Day with great ardour. Year 1 learnt versatility by performing Puss in Boots, Hansel and Gretel, Rumpelstiltskin, Trolls and Rio. Parents were enthralled as the young talented stars of Year 2 performed acts depicting adventurous stories from Roald Dhal, hilarious portrayal of Annie and the tragedy of Bambi. Year 3 captured the audience with their enchanting Nanny McPhee, Oliver Twist, Lorax and Wreck it Ralph. Years 4 and 5 left everyone spellbound with their superb representation of Hercules, Matilda, Minions, A Christmas Carol, Pandora’s Box, Brave, Mulan and the ever captivating Tipu Sultan. Last but not the least the comic Urdu Play had the audience roaring in laughter. The event concluded with appreciation and applause for the effort put in making the performances such a riveting success!
FOOD FESTIVAL
Warm sun and mild winds ensured a good turnout of students, parents and family members on the Food Festival 2018. The area was covered with colourful decorations to go with the theme “Let’s Spice it Up”. Aromatic food stalls attracted older crowd while games, rides and song dedication remained popular with the younger ones!

Lower Secondary
Red Ribbon Week

On Monday 11th September 2017, Froebel's welcomed an inspirational guest who had a bittersweet story to share with our students. This was Christina Van Sperling Afridi who endured a great loss in the form of her only child, Karim, who passed away due to a night out with friends where he experimented with drugs and choked to death at the age of 18.

She turned her sorrow into something inspiring by informing the youth of today just how dangerous drugs can be, no matter how innocent they may seem. Christina also talked about the causes of drug addiction.

Throughout the week, the Primary Years and Lower Secondary students indulged in a number of fun activities to support 'saying no to drugs'. They wore red t-shirts, made eye-catching posters to raise knowledge about substance abuse and also delivered speeches in morning assemblies.

The Red Ribbon week not only opened everyone's eyes to the horrors of wasting away to drugs, but also made sure to make everyone realise the crucial fact that there 'are' people willing to help you in every step of your journey.
The Dramatic Arts Day of Lower Secondary was indeed a colourful event. The event had performances inspired by the famous stories including; The king and I, Dracula and a humorous rendition of The Lost Land of Fairytales. Students took up different roles and carried out the performances flawlessly. The costumes, props, dialogue delivery and organisation of tasks were truly commendable. Memory of this event stands ringing in our ears long after it is over; such was the grasp and magnificence of this event!

Dramatic Arts
Science Fair Week

The chief objective of organising the Science Fair was to promote interest in Science and Technology. This competitive event encouraged the development of research skills and scientific inquiry among students and inculcated a sense of pride in their accomplishments. Students enjoyed a month of intense science activities, preparing for the week that allowed our young Einsteins to display their scientific findings for their peers and teachers to view. The competition promoted collaborative learning and allowed students to build organisational skills such as time management, collective responsibility, and interpersonal skills to find solutions to a wide range of problems.

STUDENT COUNCIL
The first time I walked inside the rusty silver gates of our school, I was a malleable toddler with snippets of a personality. It is now fifteen years later and having spent somewhere around sixteen thousand hours in this school, I have been shaped into the accomplished Head Girl that walks these halls. It is now that I truly resonate with Winnie the Pooh when he says: “How lucky I am to have something that makes saying good bye so hard.”

My experiences in this school have been quite different to most in this graduation class. When asked, they will most likely talk about the fun times with friends or how saddening it is to think about graduating. I, on the other hand, have come to school often feeling like an outcast that cannot resonate with the common emotions, thoughts or actions of my peers.

Even though sometimes, I didn’t find acceptance in people, I found it in the school. The school as an entity has provided me with comfort, love, protection and saved me from insecurity and grief. Being greeted by Munir Bhai every morning helped me start my day of with a smile. Being referred to as 'Wazir-e–Azam' by Meer Zaman Chacha lifted me up from even the lowest lows. Having little kids come up to me looking for the head girl gave me a sense of worth I doubt I’ll find anywhere else. Wearing the Head girl badge and sash everyday only increased the strength of the bond that already existed between me and school.

Perhaps my most cherished memories of this school lie within the offices of the administration. I know I’ll miss walking into Ms. Fauzia’s ofice with details of debate feats, discussing everyday nothingness with Ms. Zainab, smiling after Sir. Umar told me to cheer up or even telling Sir Asad to do computer tasks for me because I’m hopeless with a screen. These memories are most dear, not because they remind me of school but because they give me a sense of family.
I remember it like yesterday, when 16 years ago I was forced to come to school for the very first time and couldn’t stop crying. The fear of letting go of my mother’s hand and step into a new world alone was petrifying. I entered Froebel’s balling, and at the end of the very first day came out dancing with 10 new friends. That’s what I call the Froebel’s effect! It’s a home away from home where you are groomed into someone who is appreciated by everyone around you. It equips you with skills that are unmatched and that set you to international standards.

My earlier life in Froebel’s was like any others. I was (or atleast I think I was) everyone’s favourite and I loved all the attention around me. When I was in Year 9, I was this short chubby kid with a non-existent neck and cheeks you could pull for days. I got home one day and saw a celebration on account of my sister becoming Head Girl and ever since then I thought I understood how that worked but I really didn’t. For the next two years I was recognised as Alina Rasheed’s brother not Arafat Rasheed. But once she graduated people started recognising me and now I stand before you as a Head Boy!!!

Never in a million years had I imagined that I would become a Head Boy. I saw these extremely talented, outstanding orators attain this position of which I was far away from. But with the support of the administration and my batch I was destined for it. A lot of people ask me all the things that I’ll miss once I graduate and that’s a long list. From the meetings with Ms. Fauzia, Ms. Zainab and Sir Omar which were supposed to be 10 minutes but lasted hours to working every event day and night, putting in hours after school, head butting with Froebel’s best ever Student Council and my favourite part, taking God knows how many interviews. Being Head Boy was something that’s changed me 100% and I don’t see anything influencing me as much as this.

The last 2 years have been the most demanding, nerve wrecking, anxiety ridden yet satisfying, memorable and amazing years and there is nothing I would want more than to relive it one more time. But alas, all good things must come to an end. Froebel’s my home has transformed this aloof soul to someone, who isn’t afraid step out in the world and represents himself.

For the very last time as much as this breaks my heart and kills me from inside this is Froebel’s Head Boy 2017-18 Arafat Rasheed signing off!
And now we call upon stage, “Wafa Zainab, the deputy head girl of Froebel’s International School” - still echoes in my mind. Ever since Year 3 I knew I wanted to be the head girl of this school that I considered as my home. I had aims and dreams for my school. Being a part of the student council helped me accomplish all those goals! This one year groomed me in many ways. Being able to take the right decisions for my school and my batch makes me very proud. I can proudly say that I spent my tenure with pure honesty and fairness. From setting new traditions, to getting cell phones allowed, to achieving goals none other could, the Council of 2017-18 has left its mark! A piece of advice that I would want to give to the upcoming councils is, no matter how difficult things may seem, always remember; be kind, be fair, be honest, be true and all of these things will come to you. Always stay loyal to your school and yourself. And as they say, once a Froebelian, always a Froebelian!

This year’s Council was girl-dominated and it was a breath of fresh air. The girls were amazing; strong, intelligent and simultaneously fun-loving. Being Deputy Head Boy taught me and shaped me as an individual. Although I had always known that it was important to stand up for what I thought was right, I rarely got the opportunity to put it into practice in real life. Being a part of the Student Council helped me implement my beliefs. I am proud to say that I never backed down and I am going to the real world with this confidence rooted deep inside me.

While I feel confident moving onto the next step of my journey, I know I am going to miss calling myself Deputy Head Boy. I have passed my title on but it will forever be a memory I hold close to my heart. I’ll miss you, Froebel’s.
One of the most pivotal experiences of my life was my journey as being a part of the Student Government. It is by far the most memorable time, it was a time that pushed my limits and challenged me beyond anything imaginable. I worked towards my goals and ultimately became the Secretary of one of the greatest councils at Froebel’s.

My current life is an end-result of my experiences at Froebel’s. Not only has the Council played a great role in who I am today, but also the faculty and the student body have great input as well. I ensure you that nothing is unachievable if you work persistently towards your goals. My message to all is that this is one of the most memorable times of your life, so just make it memorable and make it count!

From my induction in the Student Council as the Treasurer to standing there on stage passing on the position to someone else, these past 12 months have been the most challenging; emotionally, mentally and academically. It’s been more like a roller coaster ride where even the going ‘up’ part challenges you the most. Being a part of the Student Council 2017-18 gave me an opportunity to explore my own weaknesses and strengths and to overcome my shortcomings in the best way possible.

Froebel’s is not just a name or an institution, it’s my identity and it was an honour being a part of the Council. The experience of being a part of this council is and will always be my fondest memory closest to my heart. I wish all the students all the best. This is your chance to make Froebel’s proud! I would like to end it by saying, no matter where I go, I’ll always remain a Froebelian at heart!
I think it's time for a confession; despite how much we might complain about the formal uniform, as a member of the Student Council I can tell you, we love it. Getting dressed every morning becomes an act that reiterates your identity as someone bigger than just yourself. Attached to each blazer is the weight of your responsibilities, that you may remember them wherever you are, while your badge is a source of honour. The feeling is as validating as it is humbling.

Being a part of this council has been one of the most defining experiences of my life. From (quite literally) never ending meetings, to taking point on school events-the journey has seen me grow exponentially as a person. To the next Sports Captain: as a leader, not only you have to put your team first, but also fight for those too quiet to do it themselves. Hardest of all, you have to let go of control and give them space to grow on their own. You're an absolute gem Aleena, and I can't wait to see how well you do next year.

I've had a passion for sports for as long as I can remember. I made it to Froebel's Volleyball and Football teams and got a chance to play at Frolympics for the first time in Year 11 and that was exhilarating! It was when I heard the speech that the sports captain had prepared for Frolympics, I realised that was exactly what I wanted to be! By the time that Student Council interviews came around, I was as prepared as someone who had spend an entire year dreaming about being sports captain could be. Finally, after everything, I became the Sports Captain.

A few months ago, I gave my speech as Sports Captain at Frolympics. It was surreal being on stage when just a little while ago, I was watching someone else do the same thing in awe. Having the honour of being Sports Captain shaped me as a person, and although I'll eventually be walking out the same doors I walked into seven years ago, I'll be walking out with opportunities, friendships and experiences that will stay with me forever.

This year’s FROMUN was a huge success thanks to the dedicated host team. The four-day event included challenging debating sessions, exciting socials and many memorable moments. Over the years, FROMUN has become known not only for one of the best student-lead events in the town but also a platform for novice debaters to make their debut into the world of public speaking!

The chief guest at the opening ceremony was Mr. Parakrama Siriwandara, Chief Security Advisor UNDSS (UN Department of Safety and Security) for Pakistan. FROMUN 17 has managed to become an event that no one will forget with its culturally infused global theatre, an autumn carnival, incredible concert, formal dinner and award ceremony to conclude days of intense debates and new found friendships!

Each delegate walked away with great memories, award or no award.

Some hilarious excerpts from the committees:

Delegate of Russia: “I researched a lot on this, watched two Youtube videos ...”
Delegate of Qatar: “Yes, Youtube the source of everything true on the internet.”
INDUCTION CEREMONY

The highly anticipated Student Council & Societies Induction Ceremony was held with the usual pomp and pageantry that has become an honoured and cherished yearly tradition. The formal exchange of sashes and badges (thanks a great deal to Hamza Erkin) along with oath taking, was witnessed by the proud parents, faculty and administration. We wish the parting Student Council great success in the future. We also hope that the Student Council 2018-19 will be loyal to their position and be examples for the student body to look up to. Congratulations to all positions holders for 2018!
CREDITS
From being a photographer to Vice President to President, it surely has been an honour being a part of the yearbook society. As much as I am thankful that I won’t have to deal with the stress anymore, the thought of separation from something that has been a part of me for the past three years is saddening. I hope that you all enjoy going through the memories of the academic year of 2017-18 as much as we enjoyed collecting them!

It has been an honour. I won’t lie, these past three years of making yearbooks have been a crazy rollercoaster of a ride but I know I’ll miss it. Hope you all enjoy this yearbook as much as we did making it!

Yearbook has been...interesting, to say the least. The experience i’ve been continuing for three years of being in this society was a little different this time as its secretary. That meant a bucket load more of responsibility that I wasn’t entirely sure I was ready for. But, lo and behold, I think I, along with Zaina and Fatima, have done a job worthy of a pat on the back. What with running after the members who were running after other students, it was a hilariously maddening adventure that I’ll never forget. One that entails a lot of patience, stress and learning. Looking forward to another year of doing this thing... I think(?)
Shehryar Khan Graphic Designer

Working on the yearbook has been a wonderful experience! This was for sure an ‘amazingly amazing’ year that had its fair share of ups and downs, but does the result live up to the hard work we put in! I thank the Heads and Ma’am Fatima for the constant support and encouragement. Also, there was food, more incentive to work(?)

Raahim Zeeejah Photographer

From talking billions of candids to running after kids just to get a good picture, being a member of the yearbook society has been an amazing experience for me. I made new friends and had loads of fun but yeahh never got any pizza though :/

Zainab Ahmed Photographer

Doing something I love- capturing the most special moments to look back on, working in the Yearbook Society has truly been a great experience for me!
At first I was very excited about being a photographer for the school events, but slowly I understood that it may seem easy but it is a big responsibility! I believe everything around inspires us and also moulds our personalities. Yearbook society has really polished me! I have become more responsible, punctual (well...kind off) focused, confident, and disciplined. Being a photographer gave me a chance to revive my memories. It is surely an amazing experience and I'd love to be a part of this society again and again.

After working for the yearbook society I've not only felt that I've grown as a person but as a photographer also. I've worked with people I had never talked to and made friends along the way. And trust me this journey is hard and tiring with hours of editing. Trying to juggle the Society work alongwith studies was a challenge. But it was a challenge I was willing to face! The only thing that stopped me from ending it all, were the cat memes and 9gag- my saving grace! I hope the future members of this society show the same love and motivation that each society member did this year. I'm happy I joined this society.

To be fair, being part of the Yearbook Society has actually been great fun! Running around the school interviewing different people about their thoughts on FroMUN, trying to tag along with the Dramatics Society on the pretence of writing an article about the entire day, having Pizza parties and becoming friends with people I never had the guts to interact with before, has been a life changing experience. This society isn't just a rag –tag team of students, has now become a family!
Javeeria Ali

I joined the yearbook society earlier this year not knowing what to expect. I ended up as a journalist and covered numerous school events. An avid reader, who has always loved to write, but haven’t been very good at non-fiction. Being a part of the society helped me hone and develop my skills. I really enjoyed my time as a member and have come out of it appreciating the amount of work and effort it takes to make a yearbook!

Afham Kadir

My time in the Yearbook Society was absolutely amazing and wonderful! Yes we did face some difficulties but we also did enjoy ourselves a great deal. Work seemed to be fun. The other team members were also extremely cooperative. I hope that our hard work would come in useful and that all of you would love the Yearbook 2017-18!

Adit Makhdum

The Yearbook Society has not only given us the experience in multiple activities but has also developed us into better persons. The heads have worked day and night making sure that this society maintains its top-notch standards. It was a joy to be a part of such an amazing society. The experience of being a part of it was just brilliant and I can’t wait to be part of it next year!
