Note From The Headmistress Desk!

It has been a great year! Together we have learnt much and shared experiences that will long remain with us in the years to come. The extreme hard work of our dedicated staff and faculty round the clock has kept Froebel’s Lahore at the zenith of success.

We have been ‘On A Roll’ with memorable events starting from Grandparents’ Day, Dramatic Arts, Student Council Induction, Sports Day, Food Festival and the matchless Upper Secondary Frolympics that has become popular and grown grand with every passing year. The students of Upper Secondary have proudly won many trophies at Grammania, Paraknight, Artography and LAPS. Like the previous year, a large delegation participated in the World Scholar’s Cup - Lahore round. Not only did the students win several gold and silver medals but 22 teams also qualified for the Global Round, now heading to Barcelona in the summers. I wish continued success and blessings to our first A level graduating batch.

A special thanks to the editors and the students for compiling up this amazing yearbook. I hope you will enjoy reflecting on some of our key events in the pages to follow.

Ms. Asma Rizwan
Headmistress
Chief Editor’s Note

Chief editorship of the Yearbook has surely been a learning experience. It involved incessant instructions from the top and constant chasing after the team members in order to confuse them into working on something they had not laid their hands on before. Surprisingly, most of them came up with heart warming response and work. Getting to know the team from another perspective outside the class is simply lovely. It brings people closer and makes them discover new elements in the existing.

It was especially interesting to see the two diligent top workers Shahmeer and Ramooz ironically and iconically battling hard to stay on the same page with two extremely opposite but composed personalities. Irtiza and Fatima proved impressive with their last minute (which lasted for a few days :D) head-on rigour! I would also like to appreciate Alisha Khurram, Aiman Irfan, Areeha Jawwad, Arshia Tahir, Alizay Anees and all those who clipped in for the Yearbook while we were On a Roll flicking through themes which went from ice age to retro.

A special thanks to Ms. Asma and Ms. Sadaf who were our chief operators. Thank you to the entire Yearbook team. Love to all! May you flourish and prosper!

Ms. Saima Mirza

Editor’s Note

Editing this yearbook and managing this team has been a tumultuous journey, but ultimately a very rewarding one. Sleep has been lost, debates have taken place and procrastination had reached record highs. Friends have been made and laughs have been shared amid seemingly insurmountable deadlines. The result is something we hope you cherish for the rest of your life as a memento of a very special period in your life. I know I will.

Shahmeer Athar

Sub-Editor’s Note

When I was selected as the Sub-Editor of the yearbook, I could not have fathomed what was to come. As responsibility slowly but surely piled up in different forms, no one saw it coming. And then one day, out of the blue, the feeling of impending doom dawned upon me. The next weeks were bunking classes to compile, caption, design and modify. But the best part was the (ehem) people involved. Laughing and eating while glued to screens basically summarises the work. Messaging others at 3 a.m. asking about “Progress?” was much more fun than it sounds. The whole process was extremely collaborative and devoid of unhealthy competition. As a goodbye, I hope you enjoy going through this yearbook just as much I enjoyed making it.

Some parting words by the Graduating class

Tahrim Waqas

The past six years seem to have passed by in a blink and I still find myself struggling to keep up with the ruthless nature of time that stops for nothing. Six years ago I was a completely different person. A ball of contradictions, I was constantly riddled with nerves yet, somehow, also certain about my own intellectual capabilities. Six years later, the nerves still manage to creep up when I least expect it but the failures I’ve dealt with over the last two years (largely due to my own indolence) have definitely humbled my soul.

Two years ago, thinking that my personality had gone through all the changes in school that it was ever going to go through, I decided it was time to move on. I was going to leave Froebel’s. I was going to be a college student and I was going to enjoy all the perks that came with being a college student. But perhaps it was the fondness, the warmth with which my teachers had treated me over the past few years, maybe it was my friends that I suddenly wouldn’t be able to see everyday again, maybe it was the featureless structure of the building itself that made me turn back and second guess every decision I had made that summer. Suddenly the thought of leaving filled me with immense sorrow, and I just couldn’t bring myself to turn my back on a place that had done so much for me.

Two years later, I find myself thinking the same thing I did back then but this time there is no choice to be made. I’ll give my exams and then I will have to move on with my life like so many others do. This is it now. This is the last year I can call myself a Froebellian.

I have the rest of my life ahead of me, one with twists and turns that no one ever expected. But I’m sure that I’ll spend all of it cherishing the memories that I have made here. Thank you for everything, Froebel’s.

Uzair Adnan

Froebel’s is a big part of my life. From the very first day, that I joined the school, I knew that I would learn a great deal here and make many friends. I have grown to love this place more and more with every passing year. The teachers have been extremely supportive and encouraging. Time passes so fast and I hope that I am remembered here in good words just as I would keep the time spent here cherished!
Umm-e-Habiba

It went by fast, just like our parents said it would. Everything eventually comes to an end. It's been almost five years in this school and each day is unforgettable. I give my thanks to all my teachers for their support throughout. I learned many valuable life lessons as well as made life-long friends. These years have been an overall life changing experience that I will never forget. I'll miss the place a lot.

Zahra Khan

I have been coming to Froebel's for many years now, entering the same gate and climbing the same stairs. It bored me to the bone and now that I have to leave this place, I realise how much I will miss it. We only appreciate things before they are ours, or after they are gone. I have never seen this place with love but now that I have to go, I have finally realised that I will never be able to forget my days at Froebel's. From the teachers to my friends, I have found the best of everything at Froebel's. The memories I have made been pretty awesome. I have met people here that have made me change the way I look at life. Froebel's is now a part of me and I feel very proud to have studied here. Froebel's is not a school for me but a second home. And whenever I visit this beautiful campus, I will do so with a smile!

Sara Nadeem

Every beginning has an end, and every end has a new beginning. My journey in this school started in 2014 which now is coming to an end. When I came to this school, I was unfamiliar with many things, but my O level teachers were kind enough to make consistent efforts for us. That indeed gave me all the courage it needs to take risks in future. Although O level wasn't difficult, but it was indeed an uphill struggle. This school has taught me many things, although some days were really difficult. Sir M.M.K.Lodhi being the most influential teacher showed faith in us and always emphasised us to be better humans first. My most beautiful memory was when we had a chance to visit Green Fields Country Club where we had a great time with all our classmates.
Umm-e-Rubab

It seems like only yesterday that I walked into a brightly lit classroom to encounter a room filled with nervous students and now, standing at the brink of my future graduation, ready to make my way into the world, I would like to thank all my teachers for their time, hard work and making me do my best. Thank you to all my friends. You've truly made my time here in this school special. I'm proud to have been part of this school.

Khizra Nadeem

It is a strange feeling to think that the people you have most of your life with will soon be going their separate ways. I have been studying in Froebel’s for five years and now I am going to start another chapter of my life. When I first came to Pakistan from UAE I had completed my Hifz and it was hard to come back to studying and coming in contact with new people gave me a different outlook on life. It was quite a good experience to be a part of Froebel's and I have learnt a lot from this school. Before getting into this school I was little shy, I did not have enough confidence to show my talent but when I went to Artography and won the nail art competition, I gained the confidence that I needed. I did not expect to miss my O level experience, but upon entering A level I really realised that was the best time of my life. I've had many special experiences in Froebel's, one of being appointed as a part of Student Council. I am honored to belong to such a good school.

Ajwa Asif

I might not have been a Froebelian for a long time but, my time in Froebel's has definitely affected my grooming the most. This school has provided me with an environment that is friendly but, at the same time, also firm in its training of students. When I first moved to Pakistan from Bahrain, I was terribly overwhelmed. Everything seemed new to me. The culture, the people, the environment, it was all very different from what I was used to in Bahrain. The curriculum was very different from what I had been previously studying but the teachers were of great help and were very cooperative.

Here, I found the best of friends who I have spent many fun times with and who have been incredibly supportive to me throughout this journey. The well qualified faculty in this school have guided me through not only my education but also in molding me into a person that I am today and I will forever be thankful to them for that.

The various challenges that I have faced during the extracurricular activities that I have partaken in have helped me boost my confidence and have improved me as a person. My time in Froebel’s has been truly a delightful experience and I am proud to be a Froebelian.
