On this day, we salute those who put their lives at risk trying to help people in war-stricken and disease-ridden areas. These are the people who make our life much easier and safer. Let’s try our hand at being humanitarians by helping someone in need.
Can you imagine being unable to read or write? There are thought to be more than 750 million adults around the world who cannot read! Let’s assist those who are facing difficulties in reading and writing by volunteering to tutor them, reading to them, and donating books to encourage the habit of reading.

September Highlights
- Defence Day
- Literacy Week
- Mathletics
- International Peace Day (EY)

Dur-e-Adan Azeem - Year 10
Our teachers have been heroes during the pandemic. Despite countless challenges, they made sure learning never stopped by bringing the classroom into their homes. They were our anchors during the storm and we are indebted to them for their efforts.
